Mike Mac & Jordan Baum are a Los Angeles-based writing and production aptly named The 87s. While they excel at writing catchy rhythmic pop songs, their ability to create custom music on-demand has led them to become the go-to synch snipers for the UMPG synch team. They have landed spots for all major sports programming including McDonalds and Jeep Super Bowl ads and the theme for BBC's coverage of the Olympic games; trailers/themes for blockbuster movies like Skyscraper; and TV campaigns for L'Oreal and the Golden Globes.
